Size does not matter

Many other screening methods are limited in weight or size of the shipment. One of the advantages of screening cargo using ETD is that there are no limitations, that is why is it suited for normal cargo as well as odd sized cargo. When we screen cargo using ETD the shipment does not have to be opened, unless there are explosive traces found. This is very important since your clients prefer their cargo to be transported as secure as possible.

Mobile screening service

Apart from the flexible usage of screening using ETD. We offer a service where we screen your cargo at a location at your choice using our Mobile trace detectors. Thanks to our flexible staff we are available 24/7 to provide our clients the best service.
